

Academic Advising for Liberal Studies/Bilingual Concentration: Spanish Emphasis

The Bilingual/Crosscultural Studies (Spanish) concentration provides the knowledge base for students who are planning to pursue bilingual/crosscultural credentials to teach in elementary schools. It is also designed to give graduates the language teaching skills, language proficiency, and cultural background to teach English Language Learning (ELL) students. Emphasis is on addressing the needs of an increasingly diverse student population in our schools.

Requirements (21 units minimum)

Bilingual/Crosscultural Studies (Spanish)

Complete a minimum of 21 units from the following:

1. Language Component – Complete the following (3 units)

Satisfactory completion of Spanish language course work up to SPAN 3020. Students may begin the language courses at whatever level is appropriate. Students who pass the Bilingual Spanish Language Assessment may take an additional elective in sections 3 or 4 instead of SPAN 3020.

2. Cultural Component

Complete 6 units from sections a and b in the following::

a. ETHS 2100 Contemporary Chicano Studies, 3 units

OR

ETHS 3110 Chicano Images in Arts and Film, 3 units

b. ETHS 4000 The Mexican American Family, 3 units

(Designated Equivalent Integrative Course)

3. Crosscultural Component

Complete 6 units from the following:

ETHS 4200 The Minority Experience, 3 units

ETHS 4040 Minority Family, Communities, and Schools, 3 units

ETHS 4350 Multiculturalism: From Bias to Reality, 3 units

4. Bilingual/Bicultural Component

Complete 6 units from the following:

EDUC 4430 Crosscultural Techniques for Teachers, 3 units

EDUC 4460 Cultural Views on Bilingualism (taught in Spanish), 3 units

ETHS 4100 Chicanos in Education, 3 units

ETHS 4940 Field Work in Ethnic Studies (Hispanic), 3 unit

(Modifications) _____

Total Number of Units = 21 _____

Student Signature _____

Bilingual Concentration Advisor _____

Please note: Fifteen units in the concentration cannot be double counted, and fifteen units in the concentration must be upper division courses. Your advisor is Dr. Juan Flores, professor of Teacher Education. His office is located in DBH 320 and his office phone is (209) 667 3292. He can also be reached by email at JFlores@csustan.edu.