
Martina Giselle Ramirez

BIOGRAPHY

Martina Giselle Ramirez is Dean of Natural Sciences & Professor of Biology at St. Norbert College. Dr. Ramirez received her B.S. in biology from Loyola Marymount University (LMU) and her Ph.D. in biology from U.C. Santa Cruz. Prior to St. Norbert, Dr. Ramirez was a professor at Pomona College, Bucknell University, Denison University, East Stroudsburg University, and LMU. At LMU, Dr. Ramirez served the Office of the Provost in three consecutive roles: Director of Undergraduate Research; Special Assistant to the Provost for Technology-Enhanced Learning; and Director of the Center for Teaching Excellence. Dr. Ramirez received the Rudinica Award for Student-Faculty Research from LMU's Seaver College of Science & Engineering (2012); a Biology Mentor Award from the Council on Undergraduate Research (2013); and an LGBTQ⁺ Mentor Award from LMU's LGBT Student Services Office (2016). Along with having published 19 scientific papers, including 13 with undergraduate student co-authors, Dr. Ramirez is also co-author of a book, Happier as a Woman: Transforming Friendships, Transforming Lives (Cleis Press, 2019).