Transitioning to Credential Program

- Multiple Subject Credential Program is graduate school. You must apply to the program; being a LIBS major does not give you automatic acceptance.
- See Credential Services website for entrance requirements.

Liberal Studies Advising Hours

- LIBS Faculty and Staff Advisors are available by Zoom and phone appointments, and in-person drop-ins.
- Advising begins the first day of classes. For advising hours, visit www.csustan.edu/liberal-studies/advising

General questions

- See additional information on LIBS website
- See a LIBS advisor in fall

Things to Note...

LIBS 1000/1010, 2000/2010, 3200–
Live Scan and Tuberculosis Clearance

In-person field work as part of course.

You will need fingerprint and TB clearance for these classes.

Some schools may require volunteer paperwork.

Things to Note...

CSU Stanislaus Email:

- All university correspondence is sent to your CSU Stanislaus email address. Be sure to check it regularly.
- Instructors will be contacting you as the semester is close to starting.
- Refer to instructors by last name.
- Put course number (LIBS 1000) in subject line.

Things to Note...

Classes on Campus

- Learn about the campus
 - online map - parking lots and buildings
 - parking permit / daily permit machines
- Find your classrooms
 - online map
- Visit the library
 - study space
 - printers

Things to Note...

- Keep a schedule
 - On your calendar, write down class meetings and holidays. Note when final exams are scheduled.
 - Keep track of assignment due dates.
- Technology can fail!
 - Ask the University for resources if you need a stronger internet connection.
 - Don't wait until the last minute to turn in work.
 - Contact your instructor right away when there is a problem. If it's with the system, multiple people will be doing the same, and it will help the instructor to know.

Next Steps

- Check in with advisor
 - See LIBS website for how to make an appointment and drop-in hours.
- LIBS website
 - Answers to most of your LIBS-related questions.
- Check your email regularly
