

Collection of Money by Instructors

Faculty members may not collect money from their students for any purpose whatsoever. Registration fees can only be charged on schedules set up and approved by the Trustees of The California State University. All cash must be collected by the University Cashier's Office.