There are thousands of great reasons to unpack your bags on campus—we don’t want to tell you about any of them.

Nah, that’s just talk—and talk’s cheap. We figure the best reasons for living here are discovered through experience. Something you can’t really stuff in a brochure, right? That’s why we’re inviting you over to our place—free of charge—so you can see for yourself why living on campus is such a good idea. Come spend a Saturday with us. We’ll put you up for a night, you can check out campus, we’ll meet each other, no strings attached. It ought to be pretty incredible.

This innovative program pairs admitted students with current residents for an overnight stay in The Village, our campus residential community. During your stay, you’ll dine with residents, participate in sporting and theatre events, take advantage of resident programs and activities, and learn more about the outstanding academic programs offered by CSU Stanislaus. Sign up now by filling out this form and mailing it back. This form can also be downloaded from www.csustan.edu/studenthousing.
