Keep Track of your Expenses

Keeping Track of your Expenses helps you determine where you are overspending

How many times have you walked into Target and spent $100, only to forget what you bought a week later?

But if you separate your Target receipt into categories and write down what you've spent in each category, after a month you will have a pretty good idea of where your money is going. Maybe you have a tendency to pick up a 20 oz. bottle of soda, while you're in the checkout line. At $1.50 a bottle, that can add up quickly. Maybe you're tempted by cute clothing that's on sale. Tracking your expenses will show you how much you're really spending on clothing in a month. It might be more than you think!

And at the end of the month, you can compare your tracked expenses to your actual income. When you have the numbers in front of you, there will be no denying it, if you've spent more than you earned.

Use apps to help you keep track of expenses! iPhone and Android offer a variety of budget expense tracking apps such as Spendee, Mint and BUDGT. Take advantage of these tools to help you understand and curb your spending.
