The Central California Mathematics Project (CCMP) Conference will focus on issues in mathematics education and professional development for K-12 mathematics teachers. Presenters and conference facilitators include classroom teachers, math faculty and education specialists.