HiMAP Code of Conduct

Dear Future Mathematicians and Scientists of the 21st Century,

The High School Mathematics Access Program (HiMAP) was created in 1995 to foster creativity and advancement in math and science to high achievers like you. We, at HiMAP, are committed to making learning possible in a relaxed and friendly environment; however, for true learning to commence, the learning environment should stay distraction-free. By signing here, you agree to adhere to these basic rules in order to make HiMAP the best experience possible for you and everyone around you.

_____ I will use appropriate language while on the CSUS campus (no derogatory comments towards others, vulgar language, etc.)

_____ I will wear white or maroon HiMAP t-shirt each day along with other presentable clothing (i.e.- boys: no excessively baggy pants/ girls: no short-shorts).

_____ I will not wear my hat in the classroom.

_____ I will not chew gum on campus.

_____ I will only snack during suitable times (i.e.- before HiMAP begins, during snack time, after HiMAP ends).

_____ I will keep track of my water bottle and refill it as needed instead of throwing it away (THINK GREEN!)

_____ I will keep my cell phone/I-Pod/similar devices out of sight and sound while on campus property.

_____ I will participate by asking a question I have pertaining to what we are learning or make a constructive comment AT LEAST every other day.

_____ I will be positive throughout the learning process, help others, and have fun!

_____ Failing to adhere to these rules and / or failing to mind HiMAP coaches will result in my being sent home immediately.

Participant Name (print here): __________________________

Participant Signature: ________________________________

Date: _____________________

“I have no particular talent. I am merely inquisitive.”

- Albert Einstein