October 5, 2012

To: The Campus Community

Now that the televised Presidential debates have begun, campaign season is in full swing. If you are like me, your mail is flooded with campaign flyers and there is an ad every time you turn on the television. These are frequent reminders that we are quickly approaching November 6, Election Day.

This election is an important one with many candidates and propositions on the ballot. Aside from any differences of opinion, I think we can all agree that this year’s ballot presents us with distinct choices for the direction of our state and country.

If you are not already registered to vote, or if you moved and need to re-register, it is not too late. Registering is extremely easy and will only take a few minutes of your time. Some of our staff and student leaders are hosting a voter registration table in the Quad on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. If you have a few minutes during lunch, I encourage you to visit their table and register to vote.

If registering during lunch doesn’t work for you, the California Secretary of State also provides easy and convenient online registration. Don’t wait too long to register to vote – the registration deadline is October 22.

Choose to make your voice heard by voting on November 6.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Joseph F. Sheley
President (Interim)
California State University, Stanislaus
One University Circle
Turlock, CA 95382
(209) 667-3201 - office
president@csustan.edu

This is a post-only mailing. Please do not reply to this email.