

Identity Theft

California Legislature
Assembly
DAVE COGDILL
ASSEMBLYMAN, 25TH DISTRICT

Dear Friend:

Many of you know people who have become victims of identity theft. You've heard their stories and have learned how financially and emotionally devastating this crime can be.

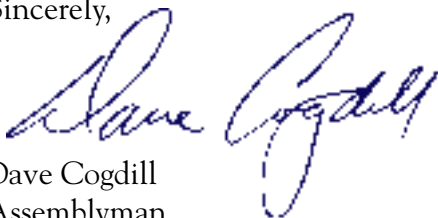

This brochure describes the crime of identity theft. It contains important information on how to safeguard your privacy and gives tips on how to protect yourself from becoming a victim.

It also describes what steps to take if someone steals your identity.

Take the time to read this brochure and to follow some very simple steps to protect yourself and your family.

Special thanks to Turlock Police Detective Kipp Loving, assigned to the Sacramento Valley Hi-Tech Crimes Identity Theft Task Force, and Turlock Police Services in working to make this brochure a possibility.

Sincerely,

what is identity theft?

PC 530.5: Unauthorized Use of Personal Identifying Information

- (a) Every person who willfully obtains personal identifying information, as defined in subdivision (b), of another person, and uses that information for any unlawful purpose, including to obtain, or attempt to obtain, credit, goods, services or medical information in the name of the other person, without the consent of that person, is guilty of a public offense.
- (b) "Personal identifying information," means the name, address, phone number, driver's license, social security number, place of employment, employee ID number, mother's maiden name, demand deposit account number, savings account number, or credit card number of an individual person.

In short, identity theft occurs when someone appropriates your personal information without your knowledge to commit fraud or theft. It can happen when the identity theft involves acquiring key pieces of someone's identifying information, (i.e., name and social security number) in order to impersonate them.

Unlike your fingerprints, which are unique to you and cannot be given to someone else for their use, your personal data, especially your social security number, your bank account or credit card number, your telephone calling card number, and other valuable identifying data can be used, if they fall into the wrong hands, to personally profit at your expense.

For victims, this guide will assist you in dealing with the clearing of your name.

If you are not a victim, this guide will help you secure your information better and allow you to spot irregularities of your personal information sooner. Whether or not you are a victim, take the ID theft test on the back resource page to evaluate your vulnerability.

what is California doing about it?

The California Legislature has taken action to prevent identity theft by passing laws that punish the criminals and help victims clear their names.

Following are a few of the laws recently passed by the California Legislature.

- Credit card companies must notify card holders of their right to prohibit disclosure of their personal information.
- Identity theft victims have the right to receive copies of any fraudulent credit, financial or other applications submitted using their identifying information.
- Credit reporting agencies are required to accept “security alerts” from consumers.
- Creditors can’t sell a consumer debt to a debt collector if they have reason to believe the consumer is a victim of identity theft.
- The Office of Privacy Protection is created within the Department of Consumer Affairs.
- Social security numbers cannot be printed on material mailed to a person unless required by state or federal law.
- Consumers have the right to request and receive a record of all inquiries made to credit-reporting agencies for the past year.
- Consumers can have their names removed from credit card solicitation mailing lists for a minimum of two years.

how to prevent identity theft

How crooks get personal information

- They go through your trash can looking for straight cut or unshredded papers. Solution: Always shred pre-approved credit applications, credit card receipts, bills and other financial information you don't want before throwing into the trash.
- They steal your mail. Solution: Quickly remove mail from your mailbox or use a P.O. box. Deposit outgoing mail at the post office or in another secure receptacle.
- They listen in on conversations you have in public. Solution: ALWAYS be aware of your surroundings.
- They buy the information either on the Internet or from someone who might have stolen it. Solution: Regularly check your credit report for unauthorized accounts.
- They steal it from a loan or credit application form you filled out or from files at a hospital, bank, school, car lot or business that you deal with. They may have obtained it from dumpsters outside of such companies. Solution: Ask questions of businesses you deal with as to how your information will be used and disposed of once no longer needed. Be aware of Assembly Bill 2246 (2000), which requires all banks and businesses to destroy paperwork containing customer's personal and financial information. The business must destroy it by 1) shredding 2) erasing 3) or modifying it in such a manner that it is unreadable or undecipherable. Customers can initiate civil action against the bank or business if they are the victim of identity theft or fraud as a result of them not destroying paperwork properly.
- They get it from your computer, especially those without firewalls. Solution: Always use a firewall and virus protection on your computer if connected to the Internet. Keep all programs updated, including your operating system (i.e., Windows 98, XP, etc.)
- They may be a friend or relative or someone who works for or with you who has access to your information. Solution: Do not allow anyone you don't fully trust access to your computer or personal information.

how to prevent identity theft

Secure your social security number

- Your social security number (SSN) is the key to your credit and banking accounts and is the prime target of criminals. Protect your SSN. Release it only when absolutely necessary (i.e., tax forms, employment records, most banking, stock and property transactions). Do not carry your SSN in your purse or wallet.
- Do not have your SSN printed on your checks. Don't let merchants write it onto your checks because of the risk of fraud.
- Order your Social Security Earnings and Benefits Statement once a year to check for fraud.

Protect your personal information

- Do not carry your Social Security card or number, birth certificate, passport, passwords, or extra credit cards in your purse or wallet.
- Lock your home mailbox, use a mail slot instead of a mailbox, or use a U.S. Post Office box.
- When you pay bills, mail them at a U.S. Post Office. Do not leave them at your home mailbox, your work place's out box, or even your neighborhood Postal Service mailbox. Neighborhood mail boxes can be burglarized.
- Instruct the post office not to process address change requests unless you personally deliver the request and show identification and proof of residence.
- Before you reveal any personal identifying information to a business, find out how it will be used and whether it will be shared. Ask if you can have your personal information kept confidential.
- Be careful sending personal information over internet chat lines, email or postings.

Credit cards

- DO NOT USE any credit card linked to any of your bank checking and/or savings accounts (i.e., MC/VISA debit cards). You are not afforded the same protections as a credit card (MasterCard, Visa, American Express). In fact, reduce the number of credit cards you actively use to a bare minimum. Carry only one or two of them in your wallet. Cancel all unused accounts. Even though you do not use them, their account numbers are recorded in your credit report which is full of data that can be used by identity thieves.

- Keep a list or photocopy of all your credit cards, the account numbers, expiration dates, and telephone numbers of the customer service and fraud departments in a secure place (not your wallet or purse) so you can quickly contact your creditors in case your cards have been stolen. Do the same with your bank accounts.
- Never give out your credit card number or other personal information over the phone unless you have a trusted business relationship with the company and you initiated the call.

Always take credit card receipts with you. Never toss them in a public trash container.

Protect your passwords and PINs

- When creating passwords and PINs (personal identification numbers), do not use the last four digits of your social security number, your birth date, middle name, pet's name, consecutive numbers, or anything else that could easily be discovered by thieves.
- Memorize all your passwords. Don't record them on anything in your wallet or purse.
- Shield your hand when using a bank ATM machine or making long distance phone calls with your phone card. "Shoulder surfers" may be nearby.

Responsible information handling

- Carefully review your credit card statements and phone bills, including cellular phone bills, for unauthorized use.
- Store your canceled checks in a safe place. In the wrong hands, they could reveal a lot of information about you, including the account number, your phone number and driver's license number. Never permit your credit card number to be written onto your checks. It's a violation of California law (California Civil Code 1725) and puts you at risk of fraud.

if your identity is stolen

Internet and On-Line Services

- Use caution when disclosing checking account numbers, credit card numbers or other personal financial data at any web site or on-line service location unless you receive a secured authentication key from your provider.
- When you subscribe to an on-line service, you may be asked to give credit card information. When you enter any interactive service site, beware of con artists who may ask you to “confirm” your enrollment service by disclosing passwords or the credit card account number used to subscribe. Don’t give them out!

If you become a victim

- Keep a log of all your contacts and make copies of all documents.
- Contact all creditors, by phone and in writing, to inform them of the problem.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to dispute a fraudulent charge (or debit) attributed to my account in the amount of $_____. I am a victim of identity theft, and I did not make this charge (or debit). I am requesting the charge be removed (or the debit reinstated), that any finance or other charges related to the fraudulent amount be credited as well, and that I receive an accurate statement.

Enclosed are copies of (use this sentence to describe any enclosed information, such as a police report) supporting my position. Please investigate this matter and correct the fraudulent charge (or debit) as soon as possible.

Sincerely,

if your identity is stolen

- Contact each of the three credit bureaus' fraud units to report identity theft. Ask to have a "Fraud Alert/Victim Impact" statement placed in your credit file asking that creditors call you before opening any new accounts.
- Request that a copy of your credit report be sent to you.
- If you have been charged with a crime committed by another person using your stolen identity, or if your identity has been mistakenly associated with a record of criminal conviction, you can register to enter your name into California's ID Theft Data Base.

important resources

- Contact the state office of the Department of Motor Vehicles to see if another license was issued in your name. If so, request a new license number and fill out the Department of Motor Vehicles' complaint form to begin the fraud investigation process.
- Obtain a description of the suspect (if known).
- Obtain witness information.
- What is the financial loss to you? Attach all supporting documents.
- Make note of this case number in your detailed history folder and reference it when you have contact with any business or law enforcement agency concerning this report. Depending upon the location (jurisdiction) of where the crime occurred (goods or services obtained or delivered), an investigator may or may not be assigned to this case.
- If there are workable leads, such as witnesses and suspect information, an investigator may be assigned to the case. Unfortunately, all cases will not be assigned to an investigator if there are no significant leads to identify the suspect.

test your "Identity Quotient"

Each one of these questions represents a possible avenue for an ID theft.

- 1) I receive several offers of pre-approved credit every week. (5 points) Add 5 more points if you do not shred them before putting them in the trash.
- 2) I carry my Social Security card in my wallet. (10 points)
- 3) I do not have a P.O. box or a locked, secured mailbox. (5 points)
- 4) I use an unlocked, open box at work or at my home to drop off my outgoing mail. (10 points)
- 5) I carry my military ID in my wallet at all times. (10 points)
- 6) I do not shred or tear banking and credit information when I throw it in the trash. (10 points)
- 7) I provide my social security number (SSN) whenever asked, without asking questions as to how that information will be safeguarded. (10 points) Add 5 points if you provide it orally without checking to see who might be listening.
- 8) I am required to use my SSN at work as an employee or student ID number. (5 points)
- 9) I have my SSN printed on my employee badge that I wear at work or in public. (10 points)
- 10) I have my SSN or driver's license number printed on my personal checks. (20 points)
- 11) I am listed in a "Who's Who" guide. (5 points)
- 12) I carry my insurance card in my wallet and either my SSN or that of my spouse is the ID number. (20 points)
- 13) I have not ordered a copy of my credit reports for at least 2 years. (10 points)
- 14) I do not believe that people would root around in my trash looking for credit or financial information. (10 points)

are you at risk?

100 + points – More than 500,000 people will become victims of ID theft this year. You are at high risk. We recommend you purchase a paper shredder, become more security aware in document handling, and start to question why people need your personal data.

50-100 points – Your odds of being victimized are about average, higher if you have good credit.

0-50 points – Congratulations. You have a high “IQ.” Keep up the good work and don’t let your guard down now.

Note: ID Theft test provided by Utility Consumers Action Network (UCAN) and Privacy Rights Clearinghouse.
