

University Writing Committee
Annual Report
2021-2022

In the 2021-2022 academic year, the University Writing Committee made progress on several items, reviewing and approving Writing Proficiency (WP) courses, and supporting members of the committee as they drafted and proposed an alternative to GWAR. In brief, here is what we accomplished this academic year:

1. We have been working on reviews of 14 WP courses with fifteen total sections. To review the assignments and materials used by each instructor, each instructor's sections of a course are reviewed. The Committee uses Canvas for the submission process. Our thanks to those instructors who submitted complete materials in a timely fashion, as this facilitates our timely review.

CJ 3170: 1 section approved
ECON 4335: 1 section approved
GEND 4250: 1 section approved
LIBS 3009: 1 section approved
MATH 4960: 1 section approved
MUS 3370: 1 section awaiting materials
NURS 3320: 1 section approved
PSYC 4120: 2 sections approved
COMM 3200: 1 section approved
ENGL 3008: 1 section approved
HIST 4960: 1 section awaiting materials
KINS 3700: 1 section approved
MUSC 3260: 1 section awaiting materials
PHIL 4500: 1 section approved

We have accomplished great work this year. Thank you to all of the committee members for their commitment to these tasks. The 2021-2022 University Writing Committee members are:

Brett Ashmun, COEKSW
Kate Hope, English
Koni Stone, COS
Erin Hughes, CAHSS
Nan Zhang, Management, Operations, and Marketing

MEMORANDUM

Christopher Turner, At-Large

John Wittman, Writing Program Coordinator, English

Rachel Grimshaw, English

MEMORANDUM

Lastly, thank you to Whitney Placido for her administrative support. UWC has a large amount of materials to process and track due to the nature of WP course review. Without Ms. Placido's help, it would be nearly impossible for the committee to do our work.

Brett Ashmun and Kate Hope, Co-Chairs
University Writing Committee
May 1, 2022

MEMORANDUM