

CSU STANISLAUS MA Programs in English

- Masters in Literature
- Masters in Rhetoric and Teaching Writing (RTW)
- Masters in TESOL
- Combined Masters in RTW and Lit or RTW and TESOL

Why Pursue an MA in English at CSU Stanislaus?

Our program faculty members are exceptional instructors, scholars, and committed academic mentors.

In addition to guiding their intellectual development in the classroom, our faculty members are dedicated to helping students prepare academic conference presentations and publish articles in scholarly journals.

Every year, a portion of our outstanding M.A. graduates are accepted to Ph.D. programs, placed in jobs as high school and community college instructors, and/or receive training to improve their teaching and advance their careers in a variety of fields.

We offer small classes—seminars cap at 15 students—ensuring individual attention and responsive mentoring.

Our students participate in intellectually-enriching and resume-building events, including the Valley Voices Visiting Writers Series (a regional series that has featured local poets such as Gary Soto, Juan Felipe Herrera, and Lee Herrick), research colloquia featuring cash prizes, and university-hosted conferences such as The 19th Annual Shakespeare Symposium and The Empire Conference.

We also provide students with hands-on training as editors of The San Joaquin Valley Journal, an online, peer-reviewed journal published by the English Department.

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES

- Graduate Assistantships
- Teaching Assistantships
- Scholarship Stipends
- Conference/Travel funding

<http://www.csustan.edu/english/master>