

Faculty Employment Opportunity

- POSITION: POSITION TITLE & DESCRIPTION: Assistant Professor of English: The Department of English seeks a tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor with an emphasis in multiethnic American Literature or Literature of the Americas. The department seeks an individual with strengths and commitments in global and postcolonial approaches to English-language literature and its relationships to the many literary traditions in the Americas. The person appointed to this position will join a lively and varied group of scholar-teachers engaged with literary and cultural production and teaching literature and humanities courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels.
- Other responsibilities include academic advising of English majors and certificate students. Additional opportunities include developing outreach and coordination strategies for advising and support for student success and complementing a reinvigorated Ethnic Studies program within the College of the Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences. Effective teaching is a priority; scholarly productivity, research or creative activity, and service to the University are required for retention, promotion, and tenure. This position is contingent upon the availability of authorized funding.
- MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS: A Ph. D. in Literature or related field is required. Record of scholarship and teaching pertaining to multiethnic American literature, with specializations in African-American, Asian-American, Latino/a, or American Indian literature, or Literature of the Americas is required. Evidence of commitment to teaching and mentoring students from diverse educational and cultural backgrounds is required.
- PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS: Candidates should demonstrate experience in teaching, mentoring, research, or community service that has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity, social justice, and excellence.
- HOW TO APPLY & DEADLINE: A complete application is required for consideration and must include: an application letter, specifically addressing the position description and qualifications; unofficial photocopies of graduate transcripts; and a professional résumé, including the names, addresses, and contact information for three references. Official transcripts required at the time of hire. Electronic submissions preferred. Screening of completed application files will begin March 21, 2016. Position will remain open until filled. Appointment is scheduled to begin August 19, 2016.
