2021 – 2022 Graduate Exception Course Form

Financial aid awards are based on a student's academic classification. If you are admitted to a graduate level program, courses that a student is enrolled in must be required for the graduate program as listed in the University's Academic Catalog. If a course is not required for the graduate program, the courses are ineligible for Federal Student Aid funding.

Any undergraduate level course or replacement course offered within a student's graduate program must be listed in academic catalog and/or acknowledged by the instructor as containing assignments and grading which meet the higher standards of a graduate course. The course must also be required for program completion.
