

Miguel Pulido
Director, Admissions and Outreach Services

Miguel Pulido, Director of Admissions and Outreach Services, has over 15 years of experience in education. He provides visionary leadership and oversight to a team of admissions counselors, Warriors on the Way (WOW), Early Assessment Program (EAP), Admissions Communications, Campus Tours, and Early Outreach. Before coming to Stanislaus State in 2012, Mr. Pulido held roles in Merced County Office of Education and Atwater Elementary School District. He earned a baccalaureate degree from University of California, Davis, a Master of Arts in School Counseling from Fresno Pacific University and holds a Pupil Personnel Services Credential through the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing.

His experience as a first-generation college graduate has impressed upon him the importance of providing access to high quality post-secondary education to all students. His role as Director of Admissions and Outreach Services allows him to advance the CSU's mission to encourage and provide access to higher education to all students who are prepared for and wish to participate in collegiate studies.

Mr. Pulido grew up in California's Central Valley and is sensitive to the unique needs of the university's service region. He considers it a "great honor to help scholars create a pathway to Stanislaus State and benefit from the transformative power of a high-quality post-secondary education."
