At the present time, the health risk for COVID-19 to the general public in California remains low, and the number of confirmed cases of COVID-19 in the state is still relatively low. The State is in a mitigation phase relative to the novel coronavirus pandemic; this means efforts are being directed to (1) reduce the rate of transmission, (2) minimize the impact of coronavirus infections on health care and other systems, and (3) allow for time to develop a possible vaccine or viable treatment solutions to COVID-19. Social distancing (i.e., reducing close person-to-person contact) is a key strategy for reducing risk of infection. The evaluation rubric below reflects this current context.

The CSU Chancellor’s Office strongly encourages cancelling or rescheduling events and meetings that are less essential or less time-sensitive in nature. Unless your event or meeting is critical to sustaining core mission activities, please proceed with plans to cancel or reschedule.

\(^i\) Each individual campus should determine what constitutes “core mission activities.” The goal of this guidance is to sustain as much of our core mission activities for as long as possible.

\(^{ii}\) Each individual campus should determine what constitutes “large” for their unique institutional context.
