Mission Statement:

The mission of the Warriors Teach! Residency Pathway is to accelerate the achievement of all students through the preparation, support, and retention of exceptional teachers who are advocates for children and their communities.

Why become a bilingual (Spanish) teacher?

ACCELERATE

Build skills and knowledge for students' futures to achieve learning goals and to become productive members of society

ADVOCATE

Be the voice for students and families who are undervalued or marginalized

ENRICH

Provide learning experiences that help students develop understanding and capacity in two languages

Resident Selection Process

Residents are selected through a careful screening and interview process. Residents must be of the highest caliber in commitment to students, enthusiasm, collaboration, and excellence. Potential residents must meet all criteria for Multiple Subject Credential Program, have passed the CBEST and pass all CSETs prior to admission. (CSETs not required for CSU Stanislaus Liberal Studies majors)

⇒ Must complete before Fall semester: EDMS 4100 or Libs 3200; EDMS 4150 or Libs 4800 or ENGL 4800 ; EDUC 4400 or EDUC 4460

Warriors TEACH! Essay

**Please write no more than 2 pages on the following prompts****
(12 pt. font, double-spaced)

Explain why the Warriors TEACH! residency is the best pathway for you to become a teacher in high-need schools and serve the diverse communities in the Stanislaus region. Then describe how your values align to the following: (Your essay should demonstrate both your commitment to teaching and your writing proficiency.)

- How are you committed to reversing the achievement gap and breaking the cycle of inequity for underserved students?
- Describe your focus on student engagement and achievement for all students, not just the ones who fit an "ideal" definition of a learner.
- How open are you to self-reflection, feedback, and continuous learning?
- Explain how the following quote resonates for you. Make connections and provide specific examples referencing your values and personal story.

"We can educate all children if we truly want to. To do so, we must first stop attempting to quantify their capacity. We must be convinced of their inherent capability, humanity, and spiritual character. We must fight the foolishness proliferated by those who believe that one number can measure the worth and drive the education of human beings or that predetermined scripts can make for good teaching. Finally, we must learn who our children are – their lived cultures; their interests; and their intellectual, political, and historical legacies."

- Delpit, Lisa. Multiplication Is for White People: Raising Expectations for Other People's Children. The New Press: New York, 2012.

- Tell us why you want to teach in bilingual classroom and explain why Warriors Teach! is the best pathway for you to become a teacher. Please include prior experiences working with children (especially your experiences working with children and families who speak a different language than English, interactions you have had with different cultures) and how those experiences have prepared you for a teaching career in a bilingual classroom.
