ANTIGONE X

BY PAULA CIZMAR

DIRECTED BY CARIN HEIDELBACH

The once-magnificent world is in a state of rage. Thebes is now a ruin surrounded by refugee camps. And Antigone X could be any of us who dares to stand up to unjust laws and demand, instead, the higher powers of tolerance and decency.

A contemporary meditation on love, power, and war.

STAN STATE THEATRE DEPARTMENT

Housed in the College of the Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences; and accredited by the National Association of Schools of Theatre (NAST), the Stan State Theatre Department is a small, collegial department of teacher-practitioners committed to diverse classroom and hands-on training for our majors, minors, and concentrations. We want our theatre students and the people who attend our theatre to enjoy the process of theatre by reveling in the camaraderie of the ensemble in the production process. Lee Strasberg, when talking about the Group Theatre said, “there will be no stars in our theatre,” and that is a guiding principle upon which the Stanislaus State Theatre is built. Our theatre is a collective of the joint efforts of many.
