

A Companies Impact and Response to The Environment

Hello, my name is Lizeth Sanchez I am a junior and a Business Admiration Major. My Research entails the Company Nestle, they are my prime subject in my research and the example of a big business taking advantage of the environment. I will be researching this company and many like it and their response to their impact on the environment. My expected results are wanting to stop companies or at least bring this to the public eye. People should know how big of an impact companies are making the response they do. My mentor is Dr. Nan Zhang, a big help with looking into companies internationally. Companies should be help responsible for the environmental impact they are causing; this research has large signific because we only have one planet, and we should collectively take care of it. This is a very interesting topic for me because I am very passionate about the environment and it ties to my education being a General Business Admiration major.
